Subject: EndoTherm Compatibility with Viessmann Boilers

April 25, 2019

Dear Dale,

I have reviewed all manufacturer supplied specification and test data for EndoTherm water heating system additive from Endoenterprises. It is clear that EndoTherm may be used with any of Viessmann North American boiler product offering. The use of this product with Viessmann boilers will not adversely affect any components of the boiler nor will affect any associated warranties. We are not able to confirm the energy saving performance claims of EndoTherm, but allow the use of this product in terms of compatibility, when used with a Viessmann boiler in closed circuit hot water hydronic heating system.

Best Regards,
